Detailed Action

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a) because they fail to show the "actuator rod (7)" and the "ferrule (5)" as described in the specification. Any structural detail that is essential for a proper understanding of the disclosed invention should be shown in the drawing. MPEP § 608.02(d). Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

Art Unit: 3754

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claim 3 recites the limitation "the guide means" in line 2. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-7, 11-13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Ritsche (5,950,879).

The Ritsche reference discloses a fluid dispenser having a chamber (17), an inlet valve (27), outlet valve (21), a push button (59,54,56) forming a fastener sleeve (59), a vent passage (34, during discharge delivery) that is closed in the rest position by a cone-shaped sealing contact (), a sealed slide cylinder (see fig.2) which is formed by a body (11), a piston (18) including a lip (19), an actuator rod (see fig.2, 23) defining a housing (49), a bearing flange (38) which is formed by a ring (see fig.2; col.5, line 59&60), a ferrule (12), a top portion (see fig.2), a bottom portion (see fig.2); and wherein the sealed slide cylinder (see fig.2) is situated above the bearing flange (38); and wherein the sealed slide cylinder defines a bottom abutment end (see fig.2); and wherein the piston is provided with a guide means (16,33); and wherein the guide means includes a top guide sleeve (33) and a bottom guide sleeve (16); and wherein the top sleeve (33) surrounds the actuator rod (see fig.2,23). Also the Ritsche reference discloses the functional language of the claimed limitations.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claim 9 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Ritsche in view of VanBrocklin (6,036,059).

The Ritsche reference discloses substantially all the structure and functionality of the invention, however this reference lacks a precompression spring situated outside the chamber.

The VanBrocklin reference teaches an actuation dispensing pump having an precompression spring (44) that is disposed outside the chamber (38), and is situated between the piston (16) and the stem/rod (24) for the purpose of "not allowing the piston to move upwards during actuation of dispensing pump" (col.4, lines 57-59).

Therefore it would be obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to have reasonably modified the Ritsche's device with a precompression spring located outside of the chamber, between the piston and stem/rod as taught by VanBrocklin in order to provide a simple way to have fluid passageway to the outlet without the piston restricting the flow in no such way.

Allowable Subject Matter

7. Claims 8 and 10 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would appear to be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
8. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-13 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
